

Invitation for the series of seminars How to be Successful in your Presentations – 3. Session

„Outstanding communicators move hearts as well as minds.“

Martin Shovel

In our next seminar workshop on December 2nd we (Andreas and Judi) will deliver a group of strategies which will help you to make presentations which are:

- a) informative
- b) purposeful
- c) dynamic

THE RISK GAME

We only ask you to just take one small risk – COME with an open mind which will enable you to adapt, change and improve your presentation skills so you can 'move hearts as well as minds!'

We ensure that the following criteria are fundamental in our planning and delivery of seminars:

- Each seminar looks at how to communicate successfully and gives you the chance of putting theory into practice.
- Our team of two instructs and encourages you to examine and evaluate the basics of outstanding communication. Your professional expertise will be a key component for presentation topics
- All participants will get the chance to make mini presentations, have evaluations and enjoy team building games!

This is our final seminar in 2011 – don't miss „Risk Takers breed Success!“

We look forward to working with you again on:

December 2 from 2 to 5 pm at the JABOK - Vyšší odborná škola sociálně pedagogická a teologická Praha (Salmovská 1538/8, 120 00 Praha 2, Praha-Nové Město).

Seminar language – English.

Please take advantage of our special offer of two for the price of one.! Pay 300 CZK before and you can bring one person absolutely free.

TRAINERS AND METHODS

Judi Challiner – bio

Judi has a Manchester teaching degree in Drama, Sociology and throughout a successful, ever - changing teaching career her prime target is to improve and enrich communication in adults and children.

Currently working as a creative arts teacher in Czech schools, she teaches children to have the many skills (both verbal and non verbal) to communicate with confidence to a variety of audiences

A keen member of TMI for the past 5 years she is an Advanced Communicator Silver and among other rewarding experiences has won Speech and Evaluation contests in International speech competitions

Andreas Fehrens - bio

Andreas was born in Hamburg Germany and after an advanced education in economic studies began working in Sales. He has had a long, successful and varied career as a businessman and entrepreneur involving a sales career in international enterprises.

Today he has his own three sales organisations and does training as well sales education for the staff and customers.

As an active member of the international public speaker organization TMI and as Advanced Communicator Bronze, Andreas has considerable experience in public speaking. His special talents and skills are in motivation and positive mind trainings, interactive non verbal communications and successful sales techniques.

The uniqueness of our seminars is to offer each participant an immediate opportunity to celebrate his/her success.

We accomplish this by the following methods:

- practical, fun activities
- delivery of speeches from trainers and participants
- instant feedback from group

The number one advantage in our sessions is that we are two trainers who will give each participant a different view point on individual strengths and weaknesses.

This is an extremely efficient way of making rapid progress in your presentation skills.

Best regards
